Science with Substance. Impact with Responsibility.

Mallia Aesthetics, a part of Mallia Innovations GmbH, is a company dedicated to the development and commercialization of cosmetic products for hair growth, based on our proprietary and scientifically validated sCD83 protein.

Our products are created on the basis of a clear value system: real effect, clear origin, and uncompromising responsibility. We believe that science should not end in the laboratory, but should be effectively incorporated into everyday life to provide visibly sustainable results.

About sCD83

Soluble CD83 (sCD83) is an immunomodulatory protein that has been investigated for close to 25 years by our co-founder, Prof. Dr. Alexander Steinkasserer. Our cosmetic products utilize MAL-838, which is based on the scientifically proven and unique mode of action of sCD83.

sCD83 has been shown to:

- Induce resolution of inflammation, which promotes wound healing, and induces new hair growth, both very important also in the context of FUE.
- Activate regulatory T cells (Tregs), which interact directly with hair follicles to stimulate them.
 - Inhibit cell death of hair follicles and directly activate follicular stem cells, thereby stimulating new hair growth.
- Upregulates keratin expression, the building blocks of hair
 This multimodal mode of action distinguishes sCD83 from other topically applied hair growth agents. When applied topically, sCD83 directly reaches the hair follicles without penetrating the skin or entering the bloodstream. This localized effect is a major advantage over systemic treatments, which can cause severe side effects.

In summary, these innovative features are highly relevant to induce strong hair growth also after hair transplantation. In addition, sCD83 improves wound healing which is for sure of great interest for hair transplant surgeons and patients receiving hair transplants.

8T3 by Mallia - Cosmetics that start at the root.

Mallia Aesthetics develops precise applications to support hair growth and regeneration – scientifically sound and visibly effective. Our products lines, 8T3 ProLine and 8T3 Essentials, are based on an immunologically inspired complex of active ingredients. Regarding hair transplanation, we developed an in vitro follicle booster to be added to the culture medium, where FUEs are kept after removal from the back of the head and implantation into the front of the head. This leads to the inhibition of the cell death of hair follicles and expansion of the anagen phase. In addition, our post-transplant care product induces faster wound healing.

Visit us at our booth to learn more about how science meets impact.
